Twenty-four teachers were welcomed by Gettysburg school officials this morning and then joined the entire faculty of the high and elementary schools for a noon luncheon and afternoon sessions in preparation for the opening of the public schools here next Tuesday morning.

The new teachers gathered at the Keefeauver Elementary School this morning at 8:30 o'clock for an official welcome from Oren H. During the latter part of the morning elementary and junior and senior high school teachers who are new this year met in separate groups.

SELECT ASC COMMITTEES ON THURSDAY

New community agricultural stabilization and conservation committees were selected Thursday night with the tabulation at the county ASC office of the votes cast by farmers from throughout the county.

Members of the county ASC committee, headed by Chairman George Stock, who served as the tellers for the election, said 753 counties, out of a possible 2,683, voted in the annual election. The farmers were sent ballots for their communities, listing the names of 10 candidates for the office and also permitting written-in candidates. The ballots for each community area were tabulated Thursday night, and in each district the man receiving the largest number of votes was named chairman of the community committee; the one receiving the second highest number was elected vice chairman; third highest, regular member; fourth highest, first alternate, and fifth highest, second alternate.

CHAIRMAN TO MEET

The chairmen of the six community committees named Thursday night will meet at the ASC office in the Adams Electric Co-operative Building next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock to name the county ASC committee for the coming year.

GOP WORKERS HEAR REPORT ON VOTE LIST

The courtroom was filled Thursday evening for a Republican meeting called by Clark Spence, county chairman, and which was addressed by Miss Myra Fields, chief voting registrar of Franklin County and membership chairman for the South Central Region of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.

Speaking on registration Miss Fields said, "A registration program is needed at the present time because we are outnumbered. There are almost two million people not registered in Pennsylvania. The elephant (Republican symbol) is a big, powerful animal but it will be cumbersome unless it gets moving." She said that registration is not a one-shot job but should be continuous. She urged that "not only new people but new ideas be enrolled."

REGISTRATION REPORT

Vice Chairman Mrs. Richard Brendle, New Oxford, who is registration chairman for the county, introduced the chairman of the action committee, James Feather and Crosby N. Hartzell. Feather discussed the result of the registration held in the voting areas in the county during the past week and especially commended the Gettysburg Second Ward for an outstanding job. He called attention to the September 14 deadline and said that committeemen should not be expected to do the whole job but to lead the party workers. Hartzell exhibited and explained the literature available for use and discussed new regulations for the absentee ballot.

Miss Laura Jane Estep, New Oxford, and John B. MacLay, 174 Gordon Ave., reported on the Republican youth training seminar they attended at Pennsylvania State University. The young Republicans were sponsored jointly by the Adams County Republican Committee and the Adams County Council of Republican Women and plan to organize a teen-age Republican Club in the county.

County Commissioner Edwin Motter discussed the registrations taken at the Adams County Fair and the Kingsdale Fire Co. carnival last week.

Probe $85,000 Earnings While Posing As Doctor

DETROIT (AP) — Authorities are checking today into the background of a man who they said earned some $85,000 while posing as a physician for four years.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley Thursday termed the case "one of the most fantastic stories of deception in the state's medical history."

Kelley said the man, Thomas M. Novak, 29, of suburban Livonia, had no medical degree. "Apparently he picked up all his medical knowledge by visiting different medical schools," Kelley said.

The attorney general said Novak was tripped up after he recently applied as a physician for an insurance policy. No record of Novak's doctor's certificate was found, Kelley said.

Kelley said Novak, a 1953 graduate of Detroit's Chadsey High School, "faked" attendance at schools of medicine,

LIBRARY BUYS 1,000 BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

One thousand books for children are on order by the Adams County Public Library, the first large purchase of juvenile reading fare since the new addition to the library was completed earlier in the summer.

That report was given the library's board of directors at its September meeting Thursday evening by Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, the librarian. She said the order, which will cost about $3,500, is expected to begin arriving soon and some of the books are expected to be processed and on the shelves of the new children's wing of the library in about a week or 10 days.

Mrs. Wilson said the need for more children's books became acute this week when the school bookmobile was being loaded for its first trip to county schools on September 8. The new books are "very badly needed," she said.

AUTHOR TO VISIT

Board members were told of the approaching visit to the library of a widely known author of children's books, Mrs. Nan Agle, who will be at the library September 17 under the auspices of the Friends of the Library.

Plans for Mrs. Agle's visit here were reported to the board by Mrs. Austin Fellenbaum, a vice president of the Friends of the Library, who also told of plans of her organization for a bazaar in late November as a public library benefit.

C. P. Keefe, a member of the board, reported $1,310 paid on development fund pledges in the last month. Financial reports showed the library received the 1964 appropriation of $12,500 from the county commissioners, $3,000 from the Gettysburg borough, $1,000 from the United Fund and a $6,250 payment from the state since the board's last meeting. Fatal Crash Driver Says License Void

Herman Elgasser Jr., 35-year-old Camden, N.J., potato truck driver whose heavily laden tractor-trailer June 14 crashed into two cars on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd. a mile north of York Springs, fatally injuring two persons and injuring others, this morning pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder to a charge of driving while his license was suspended. He posted $500 bail to appear in Adams County court in October.

Elgasser currently is on bail on a charge of involuntary manslaughter arising from the accident. That charge was placed before Justice Snyder shortly after the accident occurred.

The Camden man was driving north when his tractor trailer ran over a Paul Wolf Garage-owned car, smashing it, and instantly killing Jacob Eugene Emlet, 47, York Springs, an employee of Wolf, and then crashed into a car containing two Steelton area couples. One of the occupants of that car, Mrs. Ruth Beistline, 36, Steelton, died the following day in the Harrisburg Hospital from injuries she received in the accident.

The board voted to submit the nominations of Stuart Luca-baugh, Hanover, R. D. and James Behney, York Springs R.D., for appointment by the county commissioners to the county Soil and Water Conservation board. Mr. Lucabaugh is presently a member of that board.

The directors discussed plans for participation in the state Farmers' Association meeting to be held at Scranton November 9 to 11.

John Murren, county fire marshal; Wilmer Rodgers, Abbotstown fire chief, and Claude Murren, Brunstown fire chief, were named as the committee for the event.

Fire Marshal Murren said the program will be somewhat similar to that presented in Gettysburg last October, but added that a number of planned events were not staged at Gettysburg because of the water shortage at that time. If there is sufficient water this year, a full scale program of activities will be carried out at Littlestown.

14-Year-Old Girl Becomes Youngest To Swim Channel

DOVER, England (AP) — "When I tell her the water is warm — even if it's zero — she really believes it's warm."

That's what coach Paul Herron said.

"I did the swim with my mind completely blank."

That's what Leonore Modell, 14-year-old Sacramento, Calif., schoolgirl said.

"I've never seen a swimmer like her before."

That's what Sam Rockett, veteran advisor to scores of English Channel swimmers, said.

And Leonore said: "I was in a state of self-hypnosis throughout. I have proved that health and fitness can be attained by self-discipline."

Woman Is Injured On Fall From Bus

Mrs. Mary Bowling, 67, Fairfield, was treated Thursday at the Warner Hospital for contusions of the scalp and right shoulder received when she fell while alighting from a Greyhound bus.

Kenneth Sanders, 21, Littlestown R. 1, received treatment for contusions of the right shoulder sustained Thursday when he was struck by a jack while repairing an auto tire.

Vernon Miller, 48, R. 2, was treated for a laceration of the right arm inflicted by a butcher knife when he removed it from a hip pocket while chasing a steer.

Jean Schuman, 8, Brooklyn, N.Y., was treated Thursday for the removal of a splinter from her right leg.

VETERANS OF 45 YEARS AGO CONVENE HERE

Charles Jones, national commander of the World War Tanks Corps Association, accompanied by Mrs. Jones, was the first to arrive in Gettysburg for the biennial convention of the veterans' group. The Joneses registered at the Hotel Gettysburg Thursday afternoon.

This morning two clerks were busy engaged in registering other arrivals.

The years have mellowed some of them, but the 100 Tank Corps members who convened here today to renew fellowship with their comrades of the First World War will burst into nostalgic cheers at the words "Treat 'Em Rough."

And many a glass will be raised in toast to the months they spent here in 1917-18 awaiting the call to France to "clean 'em up."

"Over There" was more than a song to the several thousand boys in the 305th Tank Brigade at Camp Colt (on the Battlefield), only tank corps training camp in the U. S. It was a point at which they would match skills and training with an enemy that had to be stopped.

Spirit was high

The spirit of the Tank Corps members was high, though their training equipment was make-believe for months. Many comical situations will be recalled at mention of the wooden tank the corpsmen "operated" until an obsolete French model was obtained for "live" training. The snarling Bear Cat emblem epitomized the tankers' tenacity for action.

Sad memories, too, will be uncovered this weekend as the former youths in khaki remember the high death toll at the hands of an invisible enemy—the flu. Many an eye will dampen at the memory of those who were deprived of the opportunity to defend (Continued on Page 3)

ALCLOR FIRM IS HELD FOR ADAMS COURT

The Hercules Alclor Chemical Co. was held for court by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Thursday afternoon on a charge of operating its Seven Stars plant in violation of an order from the Pennsylvania Air Pollution Commission.

The company, which entered an innocent plea to the charge, posted $500 bail for October term of court.

At the opening of the hearing, Justice Snyder stated that since the case was the third against the Seven Stars firm, the charge was now a misdemeanor and could not be settled before the justice but must go to court if a prima facie case was found.

HEAR 3 WITNESSES

No testimony was given by the chemical concern at the hearing. Only three witnesses appeared: State Policeman Stephen Pawlak, who had filed the information before the justice alleging the plant violated the order on August 27; Philip J. Printz, air pollution control engineer for the state Air Pollution Commission, whose investigation August 27 led to the present charge against the firm; and John G. Cleland, air pollution control engineer of the Department of Health, who had ordered Printz to make his investigation and who had personally inspected the plant on August 10.

Printz told the justice, he had been ordered to make an inspection of the plant on August 27. As he drove along the Lincoln Highway approaching the plant he saw quantities of smoke about the plant and extending to the east, south of the highway. He drove past the plant, turned around, parked, watched the smoke for a while and took pictures of it.

He then drove back to the plant, parked and took another picture from the front, then went (Continued on Page 3)

WELL-DRILLERS STRIKE WATER AT FAIRFIELD

Well drillers, seeking additional water to relieve a serious water shortage in Fairfield, Thursday afternoon struck a 25-gallon-per-minute flow at 212 feet. Wilbert Fleming, water superintendent, said the new well will be placed in operation as soon as the state sanitation board conducts tests and approves the purity of the water.

The new well is approximately 200 feet from the present chlorinator house where water from the spring-fed reservoir is treated. The well water will be pumped into the reservoir to raise the water level in the million-gallon tank and will be used only during low level periods.

FIRST WELL FAILED

The new well is the second attempt to obtain supplemental water for Fairfield's 500 residents in the past week. The first well was abandoned Tuesday afternoon at a depth of 194 feet when drillers obtained a flow of only about 4-5 gallons a minute. The drilling operation will cost the municipal authority $250 a foot.

The municipal authority was pressed for additional water by the opening of Fairfield's schools Tuesday morning where more than 800 pupils will be enrolled. Residents have cooperated with the authority "in every way" to conserve the reservoir supply, according to Fleming, who asked for continued consideration until the new system is in operation. He contacted sanitation authorities at Lewistown today and said that tests may not be completed for several days.

Fairfield is the only community in the county to suffer a severe water shortage so far this year.

CALLED TO BLAZE

McSherrystown firemen were summoned at 5:05 o'clock this morning to extinguish a fire in a small structure at the baseball diamond.

$350 ACCIDENT ON THURSDAY; CHARGE DRIVER

Damage totaled $350 when three cars collided Thursday afternoon at 12:10 o'clock on Baltimore St. at the National Cemetery. The accident was one of two investigated by borough officers Thursday.

Borough police said James Scott Cairns, 68, 221 Springs Ave., was driving north and halted for a car ahead which was pulling from a parking space across from the National Cemetery into Baltimore St.

Nathaniel Tyler, 21, Seven Stars, driving on a learner's permit, accompanied by David L. Peterson, Gettysburg R. 6, attempted to pass the Cairns car. His vehicle then struck the side of the Cairns vehicle and the front of a southbound auto operated by Marianne Bushman, Gettysburg R. 1, and owned by Leo E. and Hattie R. Bushman, Gettysburg R. 1.

W. MIDDLE ST. CRASH

Damage was estimated at $125 to the Tyler vehicle, $100 to the car owned by Keystone Cabinet Co., Littlestown, and operated by Mr. Cairns and $150 to the Bushman auto.

According to the police report a charge of making a bad pass will be brought against Tyler before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Only minor damage was reported in the other accident in the borough Thursday. Police said that at 6:30 Thursday evening Frank L. Weaver, Hyattsville, Md., was driving west on W. Middle St. and slowed to make a right turn at the Big D store, at that moment a westbound car driven by Columbus G. Schneider, Littlestown R. D. struck the rear of the Weaver vehicle.

SCOUTS TO AID

(Continued from Page 1) Ross, Zinn said three other Scouts are scheduled to come before the board for advancement next week.

The monthly status report showed Scout membership now at 539 for the district. Its goal for the year is 950 in 40 units. There are 38 units at the present time.

Some of the goals for 1964 have already been attained, Melvin Worley, district chairman, reported. The goal of 26 units taking part in outdoor activities during the summer was met, he said. A goal of 20 junior leaders trained has been met, and the goal of 31 trained top leaders has been exceeded by two.

Reports on various units showed much activity during the summer. One report, on the Idaville-Gardners-Aspers area Scouts disclosed plans to complete a swimming area at Camp Wolf Pit near Aspers.

Dr. Richard Greenholt, Littlestown, training chairman, announced plans for a course for institutional representatives to be held in the near future. The course will cover the duties of the institutional representatives to their units and the district.

Dr. W. E. Tilberg, of the district finance committee, reported the annual campaign for funds in the area outside Gettysburg "just about completed," and said the current United Fund drive locally has started with the special gifts drive. The commercial part of the campaign will start September 7, the residential area solicitation September 14 and the rural area September 16. United Fund is scheduled to raised $5,200 for the Boy Scout District.

The annual "appreciation dinner" for unit leaders, commissioners, etc., will be held at Camp Tuckahoe September 24, Scout Executive Rogers announced.

Problems of obtaining leadership for units were discussed at some length. Dr. Greenholt reported difficulty in obtaining a replacement for Stanley Frock as advisor for the Explorer post in Littlestown. Frock also serves as assistant district commissioner for Exploring.

State Of Emergency Is Declared In Malaysia

By TONY ESCODA

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Malaysia entered a state of emergency today to meet a threat of war with Indonesia and to combat new race riots in Singapore. Allied British and New Zealand units, moved into battle positions.

The Malaysian government moves were matched in Jakarta by orders from President Sukarno to his Indonesian forces to "deploy their strength" throughout Indonesia to meet any possible attack.

It was the first time British and New Zealand battalions headed into action against Indonesian guerrillas on the mainland of Malaysia. British units have fought Indonesian guerrillas in Malaysia's Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah, however.

FREE BATTALIONS

A government spokesman said the British and New Zealand troops are being used to free two Malaysian battalions for duty in riot-torn Singapore.

A battalion of British Gurkha rifles was replacing Malaysian forces in the Labis area to battle about 30 Indonesian paratroopers who were reported to have landed Wednesday. The area is 105 miles southeast of Kuala Lumpur.

A battalion of the royal New Zealand infantry, already stationed in the southwestern coastal area of Malaya, moved into the Pontian area, scene of an Indonesian seaborne invasion Aug. 17.

REQUEST HELP

The government spokesman said the Singapore administration had requested help from Malaysian federal troops because of renewed racial clashes between Malays and Chinese.

Police patrolled Singapore streets after bands of Malays and Chinese roamed the Geyland district, spreading destruction.

A curfew went into effect and the island state in the young Federation of Malaysia was declared to be in a "state of danger to public order."

The Malaysian Cabinet met in special session to give last-minute instructions to a high-level Malaysian delegation that heads Saturday for the United Nations and an emergency meeting of the U.N. Security Council.

The government hopes there can be a Security Council meeting by Tuesday to hear its charges that Indonesia is guilty of aggression.

Jet Traffic Due To Training Plan

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (AP) —

Officials at Olmsted Air Force base Thursday night attributed the unusual amount of jet traffic over the midstate area to an Air Defense Command training exercise.

The exercise, officials said, could be expected to continue through tonight. The air maneuvers are held periodically during the year, usually every three to six months.

ALCLOR FIRM

into the plant. There he found reactors one, two and six in operation, Print said. He described smoke emitting from two reactors.

RECALLED NO MANIFOLD

The state air pollution engineer said that, when he left the building about 50 minutes after entering, there was no longer any smoke in evidence and he took a picture at that time showing the great reduction in smoke in less than an hour period.

Print testified to some smoke coming from reactor one and two but said that reactor six was "functioning very well at that time and there was no smoke coming off it."

Asked whether reactor six was manifolded to a secondary condenser, Print said he recalled no manifold. He added that he was told by an employee at the plant that the company had placed extra condensers about reactors and did not consider that manifolds were needed because of the success in reducing smoke through the use of the additional equipment.

ORDER NOT CHANGED

Cleland was asked if the order of the state Air Pollution Commission had been modified as a result of his inspection of the plant August 10. He held that the order could not be modified except by the Air Pollution Commission, and the commission has not met since that time.

Cleland said that in response to a report from Hercules Alclor he had gone to the plant August 10 to investigate operation of reactors one and two to which additional condensers had been added. He was impressed with the effectiveness of the additional equipment on the reactors. Cleland said, and added that he told plant officials that such would be his report to the Air Pollution Commission. He said that he also made it clear to plant officials that there would have to be another inspection and that there could be no change in the order until the Air Pollution Commission had met and acted, that he personally had no authority to make any changes, but simply to present reports on which the Air Pollution Commission could act or not act as it saw fit.

FOUND VIOLATIONS

The order of June 5 on which the current charge is based states that the company "shall alter its manufacturing operations so that emissions from each aluminum chloride reactor shall be vented to a separate condenser which shall be provided with a dump valve that shall be so constructed and operated that air contaminants will not be emitted into the atmosphere from the base of the condenser while the reactor is operating. Each separate condenser shall be vented to one or more secondary condensers which in turn shall be vented to a stack. The stack shall be at such height and emissions shall be discharged at such a rate that no visible emissions occur at ground level outside the plant property."

Cleland and Print held that smoke was emitting in violation of the order.

A copy of the law read by Justice Snyder which stated that on third offenses the matter becomes a misdemeanor and must be referred to court, also lists the penalty for those found guilty by the court as fines of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000, and also provides for jail terms of up to a year. The law also provides "for the purpose of this section, violations on separate days shall be considered separate offenses."

Attorney Ronald Hagarman represented the concern at the hearing.

100 More Police To Patrol Roads

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Police placed 100 additional troopers on the highways today to help regulate the heavy traffic flow over the Labor Day weekend.

The additional manpower was secured by closing drivers' examination points statewide. Purdy said consideration would be given to those whose learners' permits expire during the holiday period.

tion Week program, school book covers to be distributed to the schools, bearing fire prevention messages, will be distributed to the chiefs at their meeting October 1 at Greenmount.

Glenn Raffensperger, chairman of the county's Quick Call committee, praised the fire chiefs for their cooperation in notifying the Quick Call system when their units are summoned to fires and asked that as a general rule they report by radio to the center when they leave the engine house, when they reach the fire and when they return to the engine house.

In that way, Raffensperger said, the Quick Call operator will be aware of where equipment is at all times.

"BEST IN STATE"

Claude Murren praised the Quick Call operation, telling the fire chiefs that Adams County has the best fire protection in the state as a result of its Quick Call system. He invited the chiefs to "visit the Quick Call center and see what the operator does there, and the facilities that are available."

The group was told that the "10-signals" for county radio communications have been completed and will be distributed at the October meeting. In the absence of President Robert Hartman, Vice President George Becker presided.

their country with the Tankers.

IKE IN COMMAND

In the few months from April, 1918, until November and the Armistice, members of the 305th experienced their greatest thrill, for the Tank Corps, newest of the war units, drew the highest class of young men like a magnet.

Their camp commander was a handsome young captain who refused to end a long and impressive career in the service of his country until he became Commander-in-Chief of the United States. Much of his indefatigable enthusiasm rubbed off on his men to inspire and influence them.

And if Dwight D. Eisenhower should visit this weekend with his old comrades of the Bear Cat Corps, there will be more than sufficient reward to carry them on to their next reunion two years hence.

Security?

The Hermit Crab exists from day to day in a home that is not his own. He moves from shell to shell — as he outgrows one he moves to another. Many people similarly go through life without ever having the sense of belonging . . . security . . . that comes from home ownership. The Gettysburg National Bank likes to help folks acquire the sense of belonging and security that comes from owning their own home . . . so, if there's a new home in your heart, come in and talk your plans over with us. You'll receive sound, friendly, financial advice, and you'll get the feeling so many people have — It's nice to do business with the people at The Gettysburg National Bank.

Adams County's fruitgrowers were urged to support the proposed advertising campaign of Appalachian Apple Service in an effort to market this year's apple crop. The national crop is estimated at 16 million bushels more than average, and will create marketing problems for growers from coast to coast. Appalachian Apples will attempt to market the fruit from the four-state Appalachian area and is planning a $15,000 advertising campaign to help to move the crop.

It's South Mt. Fair time again and the fair association has issued a plea to its neighbors to return the tables they borrowed from the fairgrounds. Permission was granted to persons requesting the use of the tables over the summer, but the association now is in urgent need of their return in time for the Fair.

The Grand Army of the Republic has broken up its campfire for the last time in Indianapolis, Ind., where the 83rd and last encampment was held. Six old veterans attended the encampment and their only decision of the business session was to declare the event at an end.

Lt. Col. Thomas E. Peddy has assumed command of the Air Reserve Officers' Training Corps at Gettysburg College. Eugene Chronister, 15-year-old Gardner, R. 2, youth, has returned to his home after spending the summer at Camp Easter Seal, near Somerset, sponsored by the Adams County Crippled Children's Society. Miss Louise B. Hartzell, E. Lincoln Ave., has returned to Gettysburg after receiving her master of arts degree in American studies at the University of Minnesota.

Ground will be broken Sunday morning at the site of the new church school building of Zion Reformed Church, Arendtsville, as part of the morning worship service. The ground-breaking ceremony will follow the morning worship, and the congregation has set a goal of $2,000 for

ON SOWING

Whatever we sow or plant, whether it be an act or a thought it is sure to reap its counterpart. Sow idleness and you reap its counterpart — mischief of some sort or other. Sow some phase of industry and you reap health, happiness and an inspired satisfaction.

Recreational idleness, however, is an investment for the bodily functions, as well as the mind, good vacationing, which is as important as business or useful industry. We need change and diversion. We need to make various contacts — the more the better. We need the inspiration of many interests. Every move we make, every thought we think, means the planting of some sort of seed that reaps in time for good or ill.

We may think that this one error may not count, but every

The Catholic Church at Paradise, near Abbottstown, will be rededicated Sept. 25 by the Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of Harrisburg, who will celebrate a solemn high mass to mark the reopening of the church which began its existence over 100 years ago. It has been closed for the past eight years.

Gov. James H. Duff will cut the ribbon to formally open the new section of the Lincoln Highway west of Gettysburg Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock in front of the Caledonia Manor. The program is being sponsored by the chambers of commerce and motor clubs of Gettysburg and Chambersburg. A reception for the governor will be held at the Manor and will be followed by a dinner, at which the Governor will be the principal speaker.

During a one-hour period Sunday afternoon 339 cars passed the south gate of the National Cemetery, according to Maurice Stansburg, a state employee who lives on Baltimore St. Stansburg makes his once-a-year count during the period from 2 to 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon before Labor Day. Pennsylvania cars led all states in the number of cars Sunday with 147. Maryland was second with 66 and the District of Columbia had 21. Twenty-four states were represented in the tourist cars passing through the gate.

Approximately 3,000 more persons visited Gettysburg's battlefield and the cemetery over the past holiday weekend than during the same period a year ago. The post-war record was set this year with 19,333 persons.

thing counts! We can sow nothing that does not have its reaping. What we are in character is the result of all the planting and sowing, that we have done. The reaping shows in the lines of our face, in our walk, in our mental attitude, and in every word that flows from our lips, as well as in every act that we perform.

We are all hero worshippers, to some degree or other, and this is good for it reminds us of those who cultivated fields that forever give forth a harvest. Great men and women leave seeds behind that keep sprouting in millions of lives. We are inspired to be good planters and sowers by their example.

Thoreau lived practically nothing. He lived in a simple hut, or house, that he built himself. But he planted seeds of worth, beauty, knowledge, and ideas, that brought forth harvest about him during life, and which have multiplied in millions of lives since his personal sowing ended.

I can think of nothing more vital to the world, and to one's

Don Larsen Blanks Phils On Four Hits, While Cards, Reds Bow; Giants Beat Mets

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Larsen hasn't seen a line score like this in five years.

The 35-year-old Houston right-hander had his memory refreshed Thursday night as he strung out the zeroes on the Connie Mack Stadium scoreboard, checking the National League leading Philadelphia Phillies 6-0 on four hits for his first shutout since May 30, 1959.

Larsen, who pitched a perfect game for the New York Yankees in the 1956 World Series, had not pitched a shutout in 35 starts since leaving the Yankees five years ago and beginning a short tour of the majors that took him to Kansas City, Chicago and San Francisco.

PHILS HOLD LEAD

Acquired by the Colts early in the season, Larsen has been used primarily in relief but has made five starts in the last five weeks, breaking even in four decisions while putting together an eye-opening 1.58 earned run average.

Despite the loss, the Phillies maintained their 5½-game bulge in the pennant race with 30 games to go as Lew Burdette of the Chicago Cubs shut out second-place Cincinnati 3-0 on four hits.

San Francisco's Gaylord Perry pitched a five-hitter in the Giants' 3-1 victory over the New York Mets and Wade Blasingame allowed only seven hits as Milwaukee belted St. Louis 7-0, Pittsburgh and the Los Angeles Dodgers were not scheduled.

BIG 6TH INNING

Mike White slammed two doubles and a pair of singles for the Colts, who gave Larsen more than enough working room with a five-run sixth inning rally highlighted by Carroll Hardy's two-run homer.

Walt Bond's single, a double by Bob Aspromonte and Hardy's homer off Dennis Bennett produced the first three runs before singles by Jerry Grote, Eddie Kasko and Bob Lillis plus White's double wrapped up the uprising.

Burdette, now 10-7, got the only run he needed in the second inning when Len Gabrielson drew a walk off John Tsitouris, stole second and scored on Ron Campbell's first major league hit. A walk and Billy Williams' homer in the fourth finished the scoring.

PERRY NEAR SHUTOUT

Billy McCoil, the Reds' rookie reliever, turned in a sharp performance over the final three innings, striking out seven of nine men.

Perry, bringing his record to 9-9, drove in two of the Giants' runs and had a shutout until the ninth when Joe Christopher's triple and a sacrifice fly by George Altman produced the Mets' run.

The Giants scored two runs in the fourth on consecutive doubles by Duke Snider and Tom Haller and Perry's single. In the sixth, Haller beat out a bunt, moved to third on Jim Davenport's double and scored on Perry's sacrifice fly.

BRAVES' BATS BUSY

Blasingame, now 4-4, held a 1-0 lead on Hank Aaron's 24th homer before starting a six-run seventh inning outburst by drawing a walk.

Successive singles by Rico Carty, Lee Maye, Aaron and Ed Mathews produced three runs. Joe Torre then tripled and Ed Bailey drove in the final run with a sacrifice fly.

CHISOX FACE TRIBE FOR 4

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have strong blood ties with the war-whooping Cleveland Indians but hope to let a large quantity of Tribe blood in the Sox pennant cause this weekend. The Indians, although fifth, have won 11 of their last 12 games.

As the Indians appear tonight to start a four-game visit, Sox Manager Al Lopez, who directed the Indians to a 1954 American League pennant, will have an added coaching starter, Minnie Minoso, once a steady commuter between the Indians and White Sox.

The 41-year-old Minoso was named a fifth Sox coach Thursday as General Manager Ed Short failed to induce Commissioner Ford Frick to lift his Wednesday veto of the purchase of the veteran Cuban outfielder from the Sox Indianapolis farm club Tuesday.

Frick said he thought the White Sox violated the spirit of a rule, which he admitted was faulty, in releasing Minoso July 17 and then buying him back from Indianapolis.

U. S. TO HAVE "GREATEST" SWIM TEAM

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "The greatest swimming team ever."

That was the tribute paid to the teen-age dominant American swimming team by famed Bob Kipphut today following a record-smashing jamboree in the six day Olympic swimming trials that ended Thursday.

Six world records were battered and one tied in the stiff competition for berths on the U.S. team. This followed a record-busting National AAU championship meet a month ago.

"This team is great because of its strength and depth in almost every event," said Kipphut, former Olympic coach who has been watching the Olympics since 1920.

On the basis of performances this year, the American men could win eight of the 10 swim events and possibly sweep the boards. The girls, who range in age from 14 to 19, could capture five of the eight and possibly two more.

Here's a rundown on the Olympic events:

MEN

100-meter freestyle — Mike Austin of Rochester, N.Y., has the fastest time in the world this year — 53.7 — and Gary Ilman, San Jose, Calif., (53.8) and Don Schollander, Lake Oswego, Ore., (53.9). Any of the three could break the world record of 53.6.

400-meter freestyle — Schollander has the fastest time ever, 4:12.7 up for recognition. He's only 18.

1,500-meter freestyle — Roy Saari, 19, El Segundo, Calif., broke the 17 minute barrier to 16:58.7 and thinks he may go 16:50 by Olympic swim time.

200-meter breast stroke — Chet Jastremski, 23, Toledo, Ohio, came out of retirement and lowered the world mark to 2:28.2.

OTHER QUALIFIERS

200-meter backstroke — Tom Stock of Aurora, Ill., who holds the world record of 2:10.9 is through but 19-year-old Gary Dille, Huntington, Ind., (2:12.0) and 1960 Olympian Bob Bennett, 20, Encino, Calif., (2:12.8) must be given an even chance against the world.

400-meter individual medley — Dick Roth, 16, Atherton, Calif., has the fastest time ever, 4:48.6.

200-meter butterfly — Australia's Kevin Berry has the world record of 2:06.9 but Fred Schmidt, 20, North Brook, Ill., 2:08, and Carl Robie, 19, Drexel Hill, Pa., 2:08.2 are contenders.

The Americans hold the relay world records in the 400-meter freestyle, 400-meter medley, and 800-meter freestyle, and could break them all.

WOMEN

100-meter freestyle — Australia's Dawn Fraser, holder of the world record of 58.9 has to be favored but 15-year-old Sharon Stouder, Glendora, Calif., has 1:00.4 and expects to break the minute mark soundly by Olympic time, Oct. 10-24.

400-meter freestyle — Marilyn Ramenofsky, Phoenix, just turned 18, is far away the best with her record-shattering 4:39.5.

100-meter backstroke — Christine Caron of France has a pending world record of 1:08.6. She could be beaten by Donna deVarona, 17, Santa Clara, Calif., holder of the listed world record of 1:08.9, or by Cathy Ferguson, 16, Burbank, Calif., who did 1:08.9 in the trials.

PLENTY OF TALENT

100-meter butterfly — Holland's Ada Kok holds world record of 1:06.1 and best pending mark of 1:05.1. Again fast-rising Miss Stouder, with a 1:05.4 best, is a potent threat.

200-meter breast stroke — Russia's 15-year-old Galina Prokumshchikova is the stickiest with a pending world record of 2:45.4. Claudia Kolb, 14, of Santa Clara, might make the finals at best.

400-meter individual medley — Donna deVarona all by herself with a fresh world record of 5:14.9.

Uncle Sam has the talent to sweep the 400 meter freestyle and medley relays in world record time.

The men and women divers wind up the water show with the 3-meter springboard finals today and the platform finals Sunday.

DALLAS (AP) — Billy Casper, Mason Rudolph and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez were most prominent today as a field of 150 moved out in the $40,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament.

Casper, the year's fifth leading money winner, is the biggest name here since Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema, Gary Player and Ken Venturi are not competing.

Because of his ability to position his shots to suit the tight 6,658-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course, Casper is the favorite.

Yohn Named To Bubbler's Staff

Dave Yohn, a Palmyra High School, and Gettysburg College graduate, has been named assistant varsity coach at the Bailing Springs High School.

Yohn, who was a standout high school and college player, played professional football with the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League and the New York Jets, of the American League, who recently released him. He will teach junior and senior high social studies.

LIONS MAY BE BIG CHALLENGE IN WEST NFL

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Mich. (AP) — Alex Karras is back, rougher and tougher than ever, to make Detroit's defensive group a threat to all in the Western Conference of the National Football League.

If George Wilson can find enough offense from the passing of Milt Plum and Earl Morrall and the catching of Gail Cogdill, Terry Barr and Pat Studstill, the Lions could challenge Chicago and Green Bay.

"Barring injuries, we'll be up somewhere close," said Wilson at the Lions' training camp at Cranbrook School.

"Karras is in tip top shape. He is going to make a better football player out of Roger Brown and the other. Alex has a knack of keeping the team loose with his needling."

WAS "VERY LONG YEAR"

Karras found his suspension for betting on games "a very long year." He is anxious to make up for lost time.

The loss of Karras, fines to other Lion players and the Detroit front office left the team in a rather demoralized state of shock last year. Then the injury jinx struck.

"At one time we had 26 out of 38 players injured," said Wilson.

LANE OUT OF ACTION

Injuries already have struck this season. Dick (Night Train) Lane, veteran all-league defensive cornerback, underwent surgery in mid-August for removal of cartilage from an injured knee. He is supposed to be back in six weeks.

In his absence, Wilson has been using Bobby Thompson, returning after two years in Canada. Yale Lary, 33, Gary Lowe, 30, and Dick Le Beau, 27, round out the rest of a veteran deep defense.

Karras teams with 6-foot-5, 300-pound Roger Brown at tackle. Daris McCord, coming back after a series of injuries and Sam Williams are the ends with the veteran Bill Quinlan in reserve. The linebacking trio of Ernie Clark, Joe Schmidt and Wayne Walker is intact. Carl Brettschneider is coming back slowly after a leg injury.

BASE IS DEFENSE

The defense is the real solid base of the Lions. The passing game depends on the accuracy of Plum and Morrall and the physical condition of Nick Pietrosante, the veteran fullback. Cogdill, Barr and Studstill — another man coming back after surgery — are fine receivers. Jim Gibbons is the tight end backed by Hugh McInnis.

Tom Watkins is the top running back with help from Dan Lewis. Larry Ferguson and Nick Ryder back up Pietrosante at fullback, plus Pat Batten, a good-looking rookie from Hardin Simmons.

The acquisition of tackle J.D. Smith from Philadelphia to replace the late Lucian Reebberg strengthens the offensive line that includes Bob Whitlow at center, Daryl Sanders at the other tackle and John Gordy and John Gonzaga at the guards. Rookie Wally Hilgenberg of Iowa is an extra guard or linebacker if needed.

Next—Cleveland.

Local Car Seeks National Title

Mike and Don Reimer, Springs Ave., are in Indianapolis, Ind., where they have entered their Cobra in the national championship drag races at the Indianapolis Raceway Park, finals for which will be held Saturday and Sunday.

The local speed car will race against other Cobras in the Cobra class event and the winner will go against other makes for the title.

Mike Reimer will drive the car for which his brother, Don, is agent.

Completing the crew are Roy Williams and Frank Jordan, mechanics. Tommy Zeigler accompanied the group to Indianapolis. John Reimer, father of the owners, and Warner Reimer, an uncle, will attend the finals.

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Tony Lema fired a nine-under-par 63 Thursday defeating Arnold Palmer by eight strokes in an exhibition match for the Cardinal Cushing Charity Fund of Boston.

WARNER LEADS CHIEFS TO 4TH WIN OF SEASON

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Kansas City Chiefs, who had some trouble winning ball games last year, may have had the answer sitting on the end of the bench all the time.

Charley Warner, a runner from Prairie View A&M, spent most of his rookie season watching the Chiefs dissipate the American Football League championship they had won a year earlier as the Dallas Texans.

But against the Houston Oilers Thursday night, he scored one touchdown on a 97-yard kickoff return, ran back a punt 80 yards setting up a field goal and helped the Chiefs whack the Oilers 27-17 for their fourth exhibition victory in five starts.

ACTION ON SATURDAY

There are no games scheduled tonight but both the American and National Leagues move back into action Saturday.

In the AFL, winless Boston visits Denver, Buffalo and New York meet at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Oakland is at San Diego.

Saturday's NFL schedule is headed by the annual double-header at Cleveland with the Browns hosting Green Bay and New York playing Detroit. Unbeaten Minnesota meets Philadelphia at Hershey, Pa., Dallas and Chicago are at New Orleans. St. Louis plays Washington at Norfolk, Va., and San Francisco is at Los Angeles in other games.

Sunday's only action is the annual Hall of Fame game at Canton, Ohio with Baltimore playing Pittsburgh.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Williamsport Mets continued to put the damper on the pennant hopes of the Elmira Pioneers, making it three wins in a row over the eastern League leaders Thursday night with a 3-2 victory.

Bruce Fitzpatrick provided the excitement in this one, with a two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth, scoring Sammy Drake ahead of him.

The victory went to the Mets' Duane Richards (4-5), one of three relievers in the ninth. Met starter Jim Hardin had held the Pioneers hitless until then, but was pulled when he opened the inning by walking two. Elmira's John Hogg (9-9) got the loss in relief of Eddie Watts, who had a two-hitter going until he left in the eighth.

The loss, coupled with Reading's 3-0 blanking of the Charleston Indians, left Elmira with a one-game lead over the Sox.

Reading's John Boyle (10-9) held the Indians to six hits as his teammates scored one in the fifth and two in the sixth off Huey Howden (1-5). Jim Russin led the Reading attack with three hits and Bill Milinis knocked in two runs and scored a third.

The third-place Springfield Giants failed to take advantage of the Elmira loss, dropping a 4-2 decision to the York White Roses.

Bob Baird got the win, his sixth in 18 decisions, and Bill Wade lost his 15th, against four victories.

"A PICTURE OF GOD"

Text: John 14:9 "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father."

Everybody loves to look at pictures. We begin to like them when we are very young, and never get over our love for them. That is why the world is so full of pictures, because everybody likes them; pictures on our walls at home, in the books and magazines and newspapers, photographs and snapshots all over the house, and movies — just think of all the pictures that people see every day!

But there are, perhaps, even more pictures which we do not see with our eyes at all. You can close your eyes and see pictures too. That is what happens when we think. To think is to see a picture. To spell a word is to see a picture of it. You cannot think of a person or a place without seeing a picture of that person or place in your mind. Our brain is a kind of picture gallery, a very wonderful one, where in the small space behind our eyes we can have pictures of everything in the world.

And in the picture gallery of our minds there ought to be one picture better than any other, and we ought to close our eyes and look at it every day and many times a day. It is the picture of God. But you say that you do not know what God looks like. Perhaps you have forgotten that Jesus said, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." We can see God, because we can see Jesus. Of course, we have no photograph of Jesus. But the New Testament is just full of pictures of Him. There is one of Him at Christmastime. You see a little tiny baby lying in a manger.

Close your eyes and think of it and you see the picture. Every page of the New Testament has a picture on it of Jesus. He is walking along the shore of Galilee, talking to the fishermen and asking them to follow Him. He is helping a lame man up from his mat and telling him to walk. He is touching a blind man's eyes and making him see. There are many, many others.

The things Jesus said are important, but what He was is more important. And what He was is a picture of what God is. For Jesus said, "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father." So we do have a picture of God. It is the picture of Jesus. It is a picture which each of us can have in his or her own mind. And God wants us to look at it every day. And the wonderful thing about it is, not just that it is more beautiful than any other, but that when we look at it, there is something that tells us we ought to be like that.

LONGPORT, N.J. (AP)—Rescue squad workers have recovered the body of a skindiver who disappeared Wednesday while instructing two boys in skindiving methods. The victim, William Trusdell, 27, of Aldon, Pa., had been diving for a submerged anchor some 50 yards offshore.

Musical To Tour For World's Fair

NEW YORK (AO) — A large-scale musical is being planned for a long tour next winter on behalf of the World's Fair. Major industrial exhibitors are expected to collaborate in underwriting the production which would tour 20 to 30 cities after the present fair season ends in October. Included in the display are to be samples of attractions in the expositions so that, according to a spokesman, "if people missed the fair this year they will want to see it next."

LOW-CALORIE TIDBITS. Although bite-size, canapes and appetizers make a risky bite for a reducer. The ingredients too often are calorie-loaded. Partaking, a dieter wrecks her calorie budget. Refusing, she feels unsociable.

Consequently the hostess with the mostest provides a few tidbits for the dieting contingent. Its numbers are likely to be in the majority anyhow, and probably include the party-giver.

Ideally, recipes cut the "hidden" calories that add nothing to savor or satisfaction—only to weight. The following are so delicious, you'd never guess the count to be 16 calories and under per helping:

● Small rolls of freshly sliced chipped beef, filled with mustard-spiked farmer's cheese.

● Tiny stalks of celery hearts, stuffed with chive cottage cheese.

● Anchovy dip, made by combining dieter's mayonnaise and anchovy paste to taste. Especially good for dipping chilled cauliflowerettes.

● Broiled waterchestnuts: Fry out bacon—do not brown—and drain on paper towels. Cut slices into thirds, wrap around one slice of canned waterchestnuts, and fasten with picks. Quick-broil just before serving.

● Curry shrimp: Boil fresh or frozen shrimp with curry powder, grated onion, lemon juice and black pepper. Serve chilled on picks.

Mister Lincoln and Camelot have won the coveted All-America Rose Selections highest honors for 1965.

Mister Lincoln is a fragrant, velvety red hybrid tea. Camelot is a coral-pink grandiflora of notable scent.

Both new roses were developed by the same team of California hybridists, Herb Swim and Ollie Weeks. They stemmed from cross pollinations begun 10 years ago.

Mister Lincoln and Camelot are the 25th anniversary choices of the AARS and the 64th and 65th roses to win the top award of the national pre-testing organization.

They competed with 100 other new roses in two years of testing for flower and bud form, fragrance, hardiness, bloom production, foliage, vigor, disease-resistance and adaptability to growing conditions across the nation.

Mister Lincoln is a tall plant with large, dark green leaves, lustrous foliage and blooms that often are six inches across.

Camelot bears five-inch blooms in grandiflora clusters on long, sturdy stems.

Swim said that in doing honor to President Lincoln's memory, "We believed it appropriate that the rose named for him suggest qualities of rugged strength and beauty so typical of the man."

The name Camelot — the storied land of King Arthur's Court—was chosen because the

A tribute to American music soon will be the subject of a new U. S. commemorative stamp. The design of the new stamp will feature two musical instruments popular in the early days of America—a lute and a horn. Also part of the design are a laurel wreath, a sprig of oak and a music score.

Although no date of issuance and no place of first day ceremonies have been announced, the new design was unveiled by Postmaster General John A. Gron-

Bradbury Thompson of Riverside, Conn., designed the new stamp which will be printed in red, blue and black on blue paper.

As soon as first day information is received here it will appear in this column.

The Government of India will issue on Sept. 22 a new stamp honoring Raja Rammohun Roy, known as "the father of Indian social reform," reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The stamp will be diamond shaped and the first stamp of this shape ever to be issued by India. Raja Rammohun Roy (1772-1833) was an advocate of uniting India's religions and favored a democratic form of government. During the 1830's, as a result of his protests, the British outlawed the practice of Sati (the burning alive of the wife on the funeral pyre of her husband). A portrait of Roy appears on the new stamp.

Ecuador has overprinted its 1960 buildings issue to honor the Inter-American Conference in Quito. The stamps were overprinted in a hurry and in every sheet can be noted a different series of printing defects. There are nine values in the set and the number of stamps overprinted with defective type is not yet known.

KHIEM RESIGNS DEFENSE POST IN S. VIET NAM

By ROY ESSOYAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —The political woes of South Viet Nam's government mounted today as one of the nation's top military leaders resigned, charging that Buddhists are in command.

Defense Minister Tran Thien Khiem, the only Catholic on the ruling triumvirate of generals, resigned, a government spokesman said. Khiem was quoted as saying that he "had had enough of the Buddhists running the country."

BUDDHISTS DEMANDS

The resignation followed demands by Buddhist leaders for the ouster of Khiem and other top Vietnamese army officers. Khiem, a four-star general, is the highest ranking active officer in the nation.

An aide to Khanh said he believed Khiem's move was an act of friendship to save Khanh from embarrassment. Khanh will remain in the army.

His decision left Premier Nguyen Khanh virtually isolated as head of the triumvirate formed a week ago when antigovernment demonstrations erupted. He now faces the delicate task of balancing Buddhist and Roman Catholic demands on the government.

Khanh is a Buddhist as is the only other remaining member of the former triumvirate, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh. Khanh ousted Minh last Jan. 30 as head of the government in a bloodless coup.

NEW HEARINGS IN COFFIN CASE

MONTREAL (AP)—The royal commission probing the Wilbert Coffin murder case will hold additional hearings in Quebec starting Sept. 22.

Coffin was hanged in June, 1953 for the murder of three Pennsylvania bear hunters in the Gaspé Wilderness of Quebec in June 1953. He insisted he was innocent.

The royal commission's one-man inquiry under Justice Roger Brossard was ordered following publication last December of a book by Jacques Hebert, "J'accuse les Assassins de Coffin" (I accuse the Assassins of Coffin). The book charged that Coffin was railroaded to the gallows under American pressure.

Jules Deschane, counsel of the royal commission, said a few of the 200 witnesses already heard over a 4½ month period will be recalled "for re-examination and clarification." The hearings may last two or three days.

The slain Americans were Eugene Lindsay, 47; his son Richard, 17, and Frederick Clarr, 20, all of Hollidaysburg, Pa.

Justice Brossard's report is expected in mid-October.

Hope To End State Control Of Milk

The "Citizens Committee for Fair Milk Prices" has obtained space at the Allegheny County Fair and will seek signatures on petitions to be presented to the 1965 State Legislature.

Phyllis Kernick, secretary of the committee, said the group will carry the campaign to other cities later in the year.

Move First Coal From Modern Mine

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The first load of coal was moved out this week from Bethlehem Mine Corp.'s new $30 million mine.

Slope Mine 33 is located about two miles southeast of Ebensburg. It is called the most modern mine in the world.

The mine was begun in 1961. The complex is made up of a mammoth cleaning plant, office buildings, six parallel tracks to accommodate 300 hopper cars, a coal receiving yard, a thawing shed, four silo-shaped storage structures and an elevator shaft.

Capacity of the cleaning plant is listed at 1,500 tons of coal an hour. Mine 33 connects with mines 31 and 32. Output of the three will be transported by conveyor belt to the cleaning plant.

WRITER LEAVES LARGE LEGACY TO FIREMAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Fireman Richard Gregory Shaw, 34, was off duty Thursday night but stopped by the firehouse for a cup of coffee with the boys — and learned he is heir to $250,000.

The money was left in trust to Shaw by Bushnell Dimond, a New York writer who died last June 6.

An attorney has been trying to find Shaw and the New York Daily News ran a story Thursday in the form of an open letter to Shaw.

"Hey! is this you?" firemen greeted Shaw when he stopped at the firehouse.

READS OF FORTUNE

Shaw grabbed the newspaper and learned of his fortune.

Shaw remembered striking up a friendship with Dimond and the conversations the two had for three years, about art, literature, and world culture in general.

Sometimes the two took walks together or stopped off for a beer. Shaw last saw his friend in 1951.

Shaw lives in a $57-a-month apartment in the Bronx with his wife, Tecla, 34, and sons, Steven, 9, and Vance, 4.

What will he do with the $250,000?

A belated honeymoon trip to Hawaii, said Shaw. He also talked about buying a home in New Jersey. But mainly he was still shocked by his new affluence.

He took one step quickly. He quit his extra job as a taxicab driver.

McGonigle Given GOP Assignment

HARRISBURG (AP) — Arthur T. McGonigle, Reading pretzel manufacturer who was an unsuccessful candidate for Governor in 1958, will head a Scranton administration drive to retain Republican control of the General Assembly.

The GOP holds slim margins in both Houses, and Gov. Scranton has called for a statewide campaign "unmatched in Pennsylvania history" to insure that the Party's legislative candidates are victorious in November.

The selection of McGonigle as chairman of a committee to coordinate the special legislative campaign was reported Thursday by Republican state chairman Craig Truax.

Truax said William Keisling, assistant to the Governor, would coordinate campaign advertisements and promotional programs.

Printers Return To Normal Runs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Printing operations at the Pittsburgh Press and Pittsburgh Post-Gazette have returned to normal. Both papers reported normal press runs Thursday.

The two had been affected by a pressroom slowdown that delayed printing of the Wednesday Post-Gazette and caused the Tuesday and Wednesday editions of the Press to run short. Both are printed in the same plant.

Contract talks between the Press and the Pittsburgh Printing Pressmen's Union local No. 9 resume today. The old contract expired April 1 and since then pressmen have worked under a month-to-month extension.

The union said it has voted to ask its international union to authorize a strike.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., voted with the majority Thursday as the Senate passed, by a 60-28 vote, legislation establishing a program of health care for the elderly, under social security and increasing cash payments for all those now on benefit rolls.

KINGSTON, Pa. (AP)—Robert Seeman, a 28-year-old window-washer from Kingston, was fatally injured Thursday when he fell 40 feet from the second floor of Central Catholic High School here. Police said he was working without a safety belt and he lost his grip when a window came loose from its tracks.

INVASION OF MALAYSIA IS MAJOR THREAT

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Indonesian-Malaysian situation poses the risk of a disaster that could make the struggle in South Viet Nam seem puny by comparison.

While Indonesian President Sukarno cancels military leaves and talks ominously of an enemy threatening the safety of his nation, the government of Malaysia reports a small airborne Indonesian attack on its mainland.

This could be just one of many feints the Indonesians have been making to show the world they mean to "crush Malaysia." But if one of these feints should go too far — if an attack should look like the real thing — Asia and the world likely would be in for a powerful jolt.

AUSTRALIAN VIEW

People conversant with the situation say Australia will not tolerate invasion of Malaysia in force.

Those who have discussed the matter with high-ranking Australians see them determined, if necessary, to carry war to the heart of Indonesia with all the power Australia has at its command.

Australia would expect the support of British power which is pledged to the protection of Malaysia, and indeed also would expect U.S. support. All this could present another glimpse over the abyss of World War III.

CLEAR THREAT

Australia appears to have been unhappy for a long time with U.S. policy regarding Indonesia, which Australians see as a clear threat to themselves. Indonesia became Australia's next-door neighbor when it took over Dutch New Guinea, which Indonesians call West Irian.

Australians suspect there is no bottom to the appetite of the Sukarno regime and that it needs dangerous adventuring to take its people's minds off the bleak facts of food shortages, fiscal nightmares and economic

Musical Director Makes TV Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — Milton Rosenstock, musical director of "Funny Girl," is taking time out for two months of filmmaking in Cologne, Germany.

Three films will be made or exhibit on West German television. One will utilize five songs written by Kurt Weill and Maxwell Anderson for an uncompleted show based on "Huckleberry Finn"; the others will use highlights of Gershwin's "Girl Crazy."

During Rosenstock's absence, the "Funny Girl" baton will be wielded on Broadway by Paul Cienci.

Comedy Writers Signed For Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael McWhinnie and Jerry Powell have been signed to write comedy material for the next edition of Leonard Sillman's "New Faces." The pair recently turned out a night club revue, "New York Coloring Book."

"New Faces" is slated to go into rehearsal under Sillman's direction in the autumn after launching of "The Family Way," which is being sponsored by Sillman, Sandy Farber and Eddie White. Farber and White are to be the "New Faces" producers.

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Emma Gross, 67, of Quarryville R. 3, was killed Thursday when her car struck an embankment along route 372 and flipped over.

Troubles. Australians see little point to Western aid for a nation whose postures and actions taunt the West.

$700 MILLION

Since 1950, the United States has supplied $700 million in aid to Indonesia, including military hardware. The Soviet Union provided arms aid, too, and recently agreed to step it up.

As Indonesia grew more hostile to Malaysia, American aid dwindled. No more military equipment was sent. Last month, the Senate voted to ban all further aid.

About three-fourths of the silver mined in the world is used for money.

2 TENNESSEE JUDGES KEEP CASES MOVING

By VAN SAVELL

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judges Marion S. Boyd and Bailey Brown are a zealous pair. They demand quick action, and they get it.

It adds up to savings in time and money and means they have created possibly the only "current" court docket in the country.

"The judges have a phenomenal record for getting cases disposed of — in court or out," said a Memphis lawyer. "They're proud of the record. And they keep the pressure on us. That way we don't lose things up with delaying tactics."

NONE OVER YEAR

There are 73,000 civil cases pending before all federal courts, plus several thousand criminal cases.

"This is the great tragedy of the American judicial system," said Boyd. "Many of the cases have been on the docket three years or longer."

Not so in the federal courts in Memphis and Jackson, Tenn. There were 371 civil cases pending as of June 30 this year. None of the pending cases, now available for trial, is older than one year.

HOW IT HAPPENS

How does it happen? "Back in 1940, when I became a federal judge, the system of setting the court calendar was much involved and too time-consuming," says Boyd. "I went into my first calendar session prepared. We didn't hassle over trial dates. I said: 'Gentlemen, I've got a trial schedule already made out. I'm going to read it and if you think you need a change, we'll see what can be done.' It took less than an hour, I assume, and there was only one revision."

Today, a civil case is set for trial, depending on its nature, shortly after the defendant files an answer to the suit. A criminal trial is set shortly after the defendant is arraigned.

SAVE MONEY, TOO

The judges notify lawyers of the dates by mail. The dates aren't changed by a simple call to the court clerk, Lloyd C. Johnson. The lawyer must come into court and have a good reason.

Before civil trials, lawyers and judges hold a conference in which the complaints and issues are discussed. The lawyers have already prepared a memo explaining their points and authorities. The judges require the exchange among the lawyers.

These conferences and exchanges of legal arguments lead to many of the out-of-court settlements.

The settled cases save money for the government.

Boston Judge Bans "Fanny Hill" Novel

BOSTON (AP) — "Fanny Hill," the novel about a woman who didn't move in the best of London circles, will begin moving off Boston bookshelves today.

Superior Court Judge Donald M. Macauley, after reading the 18th century novel four times, ruled it is "obscene, indecent and impure."

Sachs Harbour is the only settlement on Banks Island in the Canadian Arctic, a wind-whipped land mass about the size of West Virginia.

The U.S. has 3,300,000 farms.

POLICE READY FOR NEW RIOTS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — City Police Commissioner Howard Leary mapped plans today to beef up anti-riot forces over the Labor Day weekend.

Leary said he will draw on untapped manpower and equipment resources to be ready for a possible recurrence of the Negro rioting and looting that ravaged a section of North Philadelphia last weekend.

He said the force of some 1,200 police still on patrol in the North Philadelphia riot area would be reinforced to a total of 1,300 to 1,400 on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift and all police administrative personnel will be assigned to street patrol.

WATCH "HOT SPOTS"

Mayor James H. Tate, told a news conference Thursday, that several "hot spots" will be watched, especially the predominantly Negro area of West Philadelphia.

Tate said the North Philadelphia riot zone would remain under curfew and under full-strength police force until after the Labor Day weekend.

Earlier, Tate estimated that the rioting and looting of last weekend may ultimately cost the city an extra $7 to $10 million a year in police protection.

"Probably we may have to make a small increase in taxes," he said.

County Suspends Lax Taxpayers

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — State's Attorney James Cunningham, whose office is conducting a drive against delinquent Peoria County tax payers, has suspended three assistants he said were in the same category.

Two of them were reinstated Thursday after paying their real estate taxes. The third was out of town and not immediately available for comment.

Cunningham said the three were delinquent in tax payments for this year only.

Britain Experiencing Big Crime Boom; This May Be The Year Of Big Escapes

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
LONDON (AP) — Britain is experiencing a crime boom. The cleverest lawbreakers this country has ever known are reversing an old axiom to prove that crime does pay.

Last year's highlight was the $7-million great train robbery in Buckinghamshire, the biggest cash crime in history, carried off with breath-taking precision. This year may be known as the big escape year. Hardly a day passes but escapes are reported.

WILSON NO. 1

No. 1 escapee was Charles Frederick Wilson, one of the train robbers who had hardly settled in the maximum security cell where he was sentenced to spend 30 years in solitary. His bloodless delivery by a slick gang was so notorious that newspapers began referring to Harold Wilson, chief of the Labor party, as "the other" less-known Wilson.

The great train robbery and the Wilson escape opened Britons' eyes to the fact that this country's criminals through the years have been outracing the law.

10-1 ODDS

It is estimated that the chances of a holdup man in London will be caught and convicted today is 3-1 in the criminal's favor. For house burglars the rate is 6-1 and for auto thieves as high as 10-1.

A Cambridge University professor of criminology estimates that not more than 15 per cent of crime committed in Britain is brought into the open for punishment.

Even when a criminal is caught his chances of escaping justice "never fall below 50 per cent," according to a Cambridge Institute study.

$76 MILLION LOST

Before World War II the conviction rate in Britain was always over 50 per cent, the study noted.

It is estimated more than $76 million worth of property will be stolen or obtained by fraud this year.

British criminologists and the newspapers have been noting with interest that United States police are using computers to fight crime gangs—to trap them with machine data that forecasts thrusts in advance.

POLICE FALTERING

This may not work in Britain because there are few permanent criminal gangs here. British crime rings, a study reported, generally are composed of individual criminals brought together for a specific job and disbanded afterward. They recruit the extra men needed.

The gangs organized to do the big jobs — such as London West End jewel shop breaks — get the best tools. They have tackled safes with thermal lances capable of 5,500-degree heat thrust. Police experts say that gangs will lay out $10,000 for equipment to stage some jobs.

Where are the police in this race with crime? Hopelessly behind, many critics claim. Scandals in their ranks have shaken morale and public confidence. The police claim they are not supplied the necessary manpower or equipment.

Decline Of Theater Is No New Problem

NEW YORK (AP)—The decline of theatrical fare, a favorite theme of current Broadway criticism, bothered 18th Century England too.

Christian Deelman, author of the recent book, "The Great Shakespeare Jubilee," reports that in the decade before 1741 "many believed that tragedy, and with it the great heritage of English drama, was in danger of being extinguished. The vogue for pantomime and spectacle seemed about to swamp the legitimate stage."

Woman Headed For Dozen Snake Bites

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Snake bites are old hat to Mrs. Bonnie Wren of Wichita.

She recently went to a hospital for treatment of the bite of a copperhead snake. While there, she noted that it was the seventh time a poisonous snake had bitten her.

Mrs. Wren, 35, said none of the bites affected her seriously.

Mother Instincts Work The 2nd Time

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — When a ewe in Mrs. W. S. Watson's sheep herd refused to have anything to do with her new lamb, another ewe had to take over.

But two weeks later the same ewe gave birth a second time and this lamb suited her. Mrs. Watson said all the mother instincts worked fine for the second lamb.

Brigade Forms To Move Library Books

MIAMI (AP)—Students at Miami-Dade County Junior College borrowed the tactics of old-time fire-fighting bucket brigades when it became necessary to move some of the college library's books to another building 80 feet away.

The boys and girls formed a line between the buildings and passed the volumes hand to hand into the new storage spot.

British In Debate Over School, Bible

By GODFREY ANDERSON

LONDON (AP) — A move to take religious teaching out of Britain's schools has some Church of England people worried. They feel many parents just can't be trusted to see that their children are taught religion at all.

The teaching of scripture and a daily act of worship is compulsory in both state and private schools under the Education Act of 1944. Each child must have a minimum of one period of religious instruction each week. And, because the Church of England is the state-established church, the teaching usually conforms with Anglican theology except in cases such as Roman Catholic schools.

While Britain's expensive and exclusive private schools long have had staff clergy to act as chaplains and teach religion, most state schools keep the scripture period to the strict minimum; others just ignore it.

ONLY A FORMALITY

Schools up and down the land start their day with a hymn or two and a prayer, but this — as Anglican writer Eric Russell has described it — is a formality "to serve only as a necessary introduction to the more important business of the sports results, and the occasional appeal for a good home for three white mice no longer of use in the biology department."

"Grace before meals," the same writer has observed, "is also treated as formal hypocrisy and one pupil has been heard to offer a revised version of a familiar prayer: 'For what we are about to receive, may the Lord have mercy upon us.'"

However, a recent survey by the Institute of Christian Education disclosed strong majority support for continued religious teaching.

CALLED "FARCE"

Some teachers have written to the papers to say that they consider the daily act of worship a farce and the teaching of scripture largely ineffective. Others argue it is wrong to teach a child a specific religious faith.

The Church of England paper, editorially bawling the desperate shortage of Christian teachers in Britain, commented:

"The U.S.A. has an interesting case. It could be called Christian in a far more real sense than Britain; yet it insists that no religion is taught in schools. This gives a big impetus to the local churches and their Bible classes. Would the same thing happen here if scripture teaching were taken out of the schools? It is very doubtful. Parents, who would shoulder most of the responsibility for seeing that their children hear the teaching of the faith, have shown very little indication that

Patrons Now Have No Money On Bar

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Over the years, hundreds of patrons of Poor Henry's Bar near Clinton inlaid silver dollars on the bar with the idea they always would have "money on the bar."

All but two of the estimated 1,200 silver pieces are gone now, they would collaborate effectively. And where would the teachers come from?"

the sheriff's office said in reporting a theft at the establishment 16 miles east of Missoula. Each dollar was pried out.

Also reported missing was change from the bar and a collection of old silver dollars belonging to the bar owner, Mrs. Justine Berthoff.

Total loss was estimated at $1,400.

NEW GAMBLING GAME WORRIES CALIF. POLICE

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This city of fads has a new craze: an easy-to-learn card game which offers the house a take of $10,000 a day. Police fear it may give organized gambling a legal foothold in California and many other states.

The game is called panguingue (pang-ging-gi), an import from the Philippines via Las Vegas, Nev. Its fans usually shorten the name to pan.

Pan clubs have sprung up in seven cities and several unincorporated areas of Los Angeles County this summer, and vice-squad officers so far are powerless to stop them.

Two court rulings this week opened the door even wider to pan club operators.

Superior Court Judge Harold F. Collins issued temporary injunctions preventing Los Angeles and Santa Monica police from arresting members of clubs where the game is played.

His reasoning: Pan, never before widely played in this state, is not listed among the games specifically banned by California law.

CLUBS TO MUSHROOM

Appeals are under way, but in the meantime police expect pan clubs to mushroom, reaping millions of dollars pending final determination.

Pan uses eight decks of cards, with each of five to eight players being dealt 10 cards per hand. The object, as in rummy, is to meld or lay down runs of cards. Each player antes a chip worth 50 cents or more, depending on table rules, and the pot goes to the player who lays down all cards first.

The house does not take a percentage of the pot — this is prohibited by state law — but does collect one chip from each pot as table rental.

The take is staggering. Capt. Harry Nelson of the Los Angeles Vice Division says each hand lasts only two to three minutes, and thus one club can collect as much as $10,000 a day, or more than $3 million a year.

"It's obvious that this kind of money is bound to attract criminal elements," Nelson says. Why is pan, an ancient Tagalog game with limited appeal in this country, suddenly catching on in Los Angeles?

"It seems fairly clear that somebody is promoting it," says Nelson. "Operators have found out that it is very attractive to housewives. It requires little if any skill and goes very fast." Who makes sure the house gets its take? The dealer. He's the house man. He doesn't take part in the game; he just sits there collecting chips, dealing and arbitrating disputes.

Medicare Vote To Become Issue

HARRISBURG (AP) — Miss Genevieve Blatt, the apparent Democratic nominee for U.S. Senate, has served notice she intends to make her opponent's vote against Medicare an issue in the forthcoming campaign.

Republican Sen. Hugh Scott, seeking a second term, voted against an amendment to the health care bill to raise social security benefits. The amendment was adopted, however, and Scott voted for the over-all bill, which went to the House.

Miss Blatt, whose narrow victory in the Democratic primary is being contested in the courts, issued a statement Thursday critical of both Scott and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, GOP presidential nominee, who also opposed the amendment.

"I feel sure that Pennsylvania's senior citizens, and their sons and daughters on the way to senior citizenship, will cast their 'no' votes against both Sen. Goldwater and Sen. Scott on Nov. 3," she said.

Expects Compliance On Civil Rights

HARRISBURG (AP) — U. S. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges says he has no doubt that Pennsylvania citizens will comply with the recently enacted civil rights law.

Hodges, former governor of North Carolina, noted that the law encompassed many state statutes that have been on the books for several years.

He made the remarks in an interview Thursday following a 30-minute meeting with Gov. Scrantom during which the cabinet official explained a service available from his department under the new law.

"We have no suggestions for Pennsylvania," H o d g e s said, "but we wanted to explain about the community relations service under Title 10 of the law."

"We stand ready to help any state or community which asks for it."

FIGHT BREWING FOR PRESIDENT OF UMW UNION

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—W. A. (Tony) Boyle, president of the United Mine Workers of America, Wednesday turned a routine officers report into a campaign speech to retain his post.

Speaking to some 2,500 delegates to the UMW national convention, the union president announced the first new contract since 1957 for the nation's 25,000 hard coal miners.

Boyle is faced with opposition by a band of militant young miners backing opposition candidate Steve Kochis of Bobtown, Pa., for the presidency.

CONVENTION OPENS

The convention opened its two week session Tuesday with flying fists between opposing factions. However, no incidents were reported Wednesday.

Boyle pointed out the new contract as a demonstration of his leadership.

The contract calls for an 18-cent-an-hour wage increase on the basic seven-hour work day. This increases a miner's daily pay to about $20.

VACATION PAY

There also was a $25 increase in the existing two-week vacation pay to $185 and three paid holidays — Memorial Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Boyle, president of the UMW since January, 1963, will be up for election to his first full term in secret balloting which ends in December.

Boyle called the opposition, which has staged wildcat strikes in the past, as being "irresponsible."

Kochis has accused the UMW leadership of turning soft.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

NEW YORK (AP) — When present day woes oppress you and modern pleasures pall, you can always get a chuckle out of living by leaning back and remembering when:

Grandpa would pay you a nickel to clean his spats.

It was the height of devilry on April Fool's day to call up the zoo and ask, "Is Mr. Wolf there?"

THRILLS ON RADIO

You finally learned to tie your own shoes — and felt that life could hardly hold a greater victory.

A dime would buy you more licorice than you could chew in a day.

One of the last things you did before going to sleep was to hide your gum wad in a place where you could find it again — and your mother couldn't.

People would stay up until after midnight for the thrill of tuning in a new station on the family's crystal radio set.

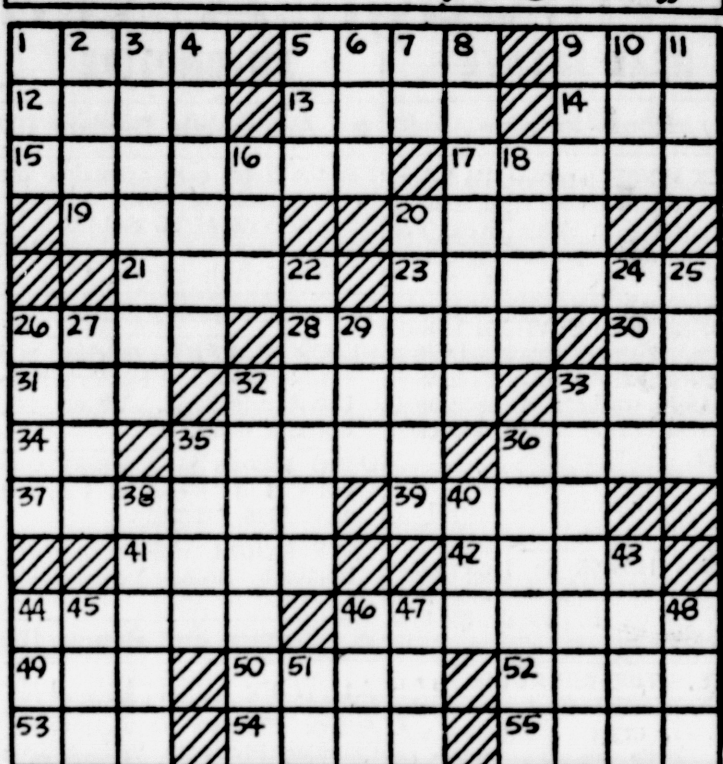

MARK OF MIBSTER

If a kid didn't have a patch on the right knee of his stocking, you knew one thing for sure about him — he was no good at playing marbles.

You knew that your guardian angel protected you during the night, but you often pondered the mystery of where she kept herself during the day.

You were too shy to tell your kindergarten teacher that all you wanted out of life was to

MARK OF DELINQUENT

Immediately after smoking your first cigarette you ran home and looked in the mirror to see if you had caught tuberculosis.

A juvenile delinquent was a lad who jumped on the back of a street car and jerked the overhead trolley off the wire.

The most sophisticated comeback to any remark was the reply, "So's your old man."

Everybody in the neighborhood knew you had fallen in love with the little girl down the street when you finally agreed to play hopscotch with her in public.

Grownups argued about the tariff question, but all their kids worried about was how to get rid of warts.

When you tried to play sick, mom simply asked you to stick out your tongue. If your tongue wasn't coated she decided you were well enough to go to school — and you went.

The worst thing about losing a front tooth was that it ruined your whistling.

THE GENTLEMAN

Jerry was a gentleman. When once he gave his word, The thought that he could break it never once to him occurred, And if friends should lend him money to supply some pressing lack,

He never rested well at night until he's paid it back.

He wasn't very clever and he never rose to fame, But he was jolly company in any sort of game;

And he had a curious notion if he ever made a date, He's be punctual to the minute though the other chap was late.

He was gracious to his elders; to the children he was kind, In the present of the ladies he was never coarse of mind.

He never drew attention to himself by manners loud, And you'd hardly ever see him when he mingled with a crowd.

Jerry lived in simple fashion and was modestly attired, But no man though rich or famous by his friends was more admired,

And the more I think about him still the more I wonder why Men try various ways of winning and pass Jerry's method by.

WITNESS IS ATTACKED BY NAZI MEMBER

By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Nazi sympathizer's attack on a witness brought to a violent and abrupt end the opening session of the House Committee on Un-American Activities' inquiry into student travel to Cuba.

But the committee resumes its hearings today with the same witness, Morton B. Salter, 21, of New York on the stand and police ready, as they were Thursday, for any eventuality.

Slater, one of 84 students who visited Cuba this summer, was starting to testify Thursday when a man later identified by police as Lon L. Dunaway, 28, of Arlington, Va., leaped upon the witness stand and tried to hit Slater.

ADJOURNS SESSION

Police brought down Dunaway, who was wearing the arm-band of the American Nazi party. The presiding congressman, Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., gavelled the session to a close and rescheduled Slater's appearance for today.

Until that moment, the day had been calm, a far cry from the sessions a year ago when student travelers, dressed in blue jeans, sandals and beards, hooted and jeered and soon found themselves dragged out of the House caucus room and tossed onto the sidewalk outside the House office building.

This time, the student travelers showed up in quiet, conservative dress, no different from any other witness or audience on Capitol Hill. And they came armed with an instruction sheet urging them to behave in an orderly way, keep their comments to themselves and obey whatever an officer tells them to do. They followed the instructions.

GOP TO GUARD VOTE COUNTING

HARRISBURG (AP) — A national Republican party official says the GOP will place particular emphasis on "ballot security" in the presidential election.

John E. Grenier, executive director of the Republican National Committee, told a news conference here Thursday:

"In view of the nature of Lyndon Johnson's past election successes, or at least some of them, heavy emphasis will be laid in this campaign on ballot security to insure votes are counted as they are cast."

Grenier made the remark after conducting a six-hour strategy session for party organization leaders from five states.

Asked if he was suggesting that the president had been involved in voting irregularities, Grenier replied:

"I didn't say that. But when Johnson won his Senate seat in 1948 by a landslide of 87 votes the result was not determined until returns from Jim Wells County (Texas) were taken in several days later."

Grenier, the Alabama Republican chairman, said all instances of inaccurate vote counting are not necessarily "malicious or fraudulent," but that some result from human error.

The closed strategy meeting was attended by some 60 GOP leaders from Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware. It was one of nine regional sessions being conducted by the national committee.

Leaves Estate To Husband, Children

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedienne Gracie Allen's will has been filed for probate. It left her estate to her husband George Burns and their two adopted children.

The will, filed Thursday in Superior Court, left Burns — her partner in one of the most celebrated comedy teams in show business history — all personal effects and her interest in their Beverly Hills home.

The remainder was left in trust for the two children, Sandra Joan Luckman and Ronald Burns, both of Beverly Hills, with Burns as trustee.

The petition made no estimate of the estate, except that it exceeds $50,000.

Miss Allen died Aug. 27 of a heart attack. The petition gave her age as 62.

Firemen Rescue Cat Samaritan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The meows of a cat stranded two days atop a three-story building was too much for one sympathetic man.

Up he went to the rescue, using the same route the cat took — a tall tree next to the building. But then a fire department rescue crew had to be called Thursday to lower man and cat.

The embarrassed man declined to give his name.

The cat's name is Tabby.

BANGED A CURB LATELY?

BETTER HAVE YOUR WHEEL ALIGNMENT CHECKED AND PREVENT EXPENSIVE TIRE WEAR

...with our Precision HUNTER EQUIPMENT!

Even the best drivers scrape a curb now and then... maybe you have too! It doesn't always take a real hard jolt to misalign wheels enough to cause unnecessary, costly wear that can cut tire mileage in half. You'll enjoy driving more, too! Why chance it?
